HURRY CAMPAIGN FOR "T. B." TEST

Seek to Have Petitions in Early This Month for Test in February.

As soon as townships are thoroughly canvassed and all farmers who will sign have been obtained, the Rock County Farm Bureau requests that petitions distributed for the state testing campaign, be sent to the county court house, Janesville. A check is desired to be made to report to the state agricultural and livestock authorities whether the county has sufficient signatures to carry the area program.

While the test leaders are confident of having more than the 61 per cent already signed, they want every district covered and a majority signed. The petitions will be checked in the reports received from the town chairman show that more than half the townships are signed better than 50 per cent and the work of canvassing still being pushed.

Seek Early Test
Commissioner C. J. Norgard, Madison, informed the Rock County Farm Bureau, that in the event the petition campaign is not completed by January 15, it was "likely the test would be held during February in Rock county." Testers and veterinarians who have been working in the northern counties will probably be put to work in Rock county where they can travel better because of better roads and less snow and make a quick test during February or March.

All the state authorities indicated an early test for Rock county, unless the petitions were received.

Thorough Canvass
The state testing program depends greatly on the action taken by the legislature in granting the amounts needed to carry on the work and pay indemnities. Two of the Rock County legislators representing the county, who were in Madison, indicated that they were in favor of an adequate appropriation to meet the needs.

"We want the townships thoroughly covered before the petition campaign is held, but at the same time, we want to be able to send the report and all the petitions to Madison early this month," explained Secretary C. J. Hemmings.

"If the test is now with but 61 per cent, the Bureau considers it better policy to wait until all districts have been covered and the percentage is higher. If the test is held now, the owner has asked to sign the petition and he understood the issue, there would be no trouble in reporting 90 per cent."

COUNTY CANDIDATE IN STATE CONTEST FOR DEVELOPMENT

Rock county will be one of the contestants in the new state-wide contest between county breeders' associations of various breeds in Wisconsin.

In order to give new impetus to the development of the county, the Rock County Livestock contest will be entered into by the various breed associations. Points will be awarded to counties and breed associations for development work such as, new members joining, county testing associations, number of boys and girls enrolled in the calf, pig or farm clubs, now paid-up members in the association, number of pure bred sires placed at the head of herds where scrub or grade sires were formerly kept, showing made at fairs and animals sold through association.

The Wisconsin Dairymen's association, agricultural agents, state and county breeders' associations, the farm and livestock institutes and the Wisconsin stock breeders' association are all cooperating in the contest. Suitable prizes will be given, states the letter sent out from the livestock association.

There are now 119 paid-up members and it is hoped to have 200 in the 1923 association, under which system, a member of the county organization also becomes a member of the state association.

Committee appointments will be made at the directors' meeting for the various Holstein activities. An improvement in county sales, both in the matter of the quality of animals and the number of them, for consideration and sale, is being sought by the association. State Prepared To Rid Itself of All Tuberculosis

Washington—Having failed to convince France by informal conversations of diplomacy, the United States government has appealed to the opinion of the world in support of its plan for a settlement of the reparations problem.

Secretary Hughes' speech at New Haven, almost coincident with the first expression from the United States on foreign policy in three weeks, has a significance apart from the plan of the proposal that a commission of financiers undertake to fix what Germany can pay. It means that the American government has been quietly advancing this proposal.

France has not agreed. There is no reason to believe France has returned a flat negative but there is every reason to suppose that the American government made little headway in these dispatches at the time that the key to the situation was to be found in the report of the international bankers' committee made in June, 1921, that committee, which was made up of the work of the agricultural department that has been pushed extensively, Mr. Norgard said, that weeds are a distinct menace to the prosperity of the state, and that the productivity of some of its best lands. His department by co-operating with the town chairman and with individual farmers is working in the light to destroy the noxious growths.

tions of the commission when once made.

Mr. Hughes' Speech
"Governments need not blind themselves in advance," said Mr. Hughes in his New Haven speech, "to accept the recommendations, but they can at least make possible such an inquiry with their approval and free the men who may represent their country in such a commission from any responsibility to foreign offices and from any duty to obey the political instructions. If governments saw fit to reject the recommendations upon which such a body agreed, they would be free to do so but they would have the advantage of impartial advice and of an enlightened public opinion. People would be informed, the question would be rescued from assertion and counter-assertion and the problem put on its way to solution."

The foregoing quotation lifts the curtain on what has been happening ever since the first hints were given that diplomatic moves of prime importance were being made by America in the European situation. It shows why the Doran resolution for an economic conference was regarded as such a disaster at this time. It shows that the American government was driving hard for the appointment of a commission of bankers to meet in London, the question being that her political situation would not permit of any recession at this time from her announced policy of making Germany pay the sums specified a year ago in the London conference.

Publicity Is Trump
But with all the cards on the table, the American government has played its trump card—publicity. France cannot very well reject a suggestion that the commission of inquiry be appointed. It cannot say in these dispatches that the commission will do the wrong thing.

It can only say that the matter has already been investigated, but that it would not dispose of it for there is a difference of opinion as to what Germany's capacity to pay has been and will be. There is a distinct feeling here that the world is on the threshold of another appeal to world opinion against secret negotiation and international politics.

St. Paul — Sale of The Minneapolis Daily News to John P. Perry and Richard L. Jones, owners of a string of newspapers, was announced here at the office of the Clover Leaf Publications company, owner of the News. The change in ownership becomes effective Feb. 1, 1923.

French Paid No Attention
When the committee of bankers met in Paris in June the French paid no attention to its suggestions. Now the American government hopes the situation has proceeded far enough for France to see the error of her way. The bankers are ready to examine Germany's assets and resources again and to recommend a loan to Germany whereupon her first reparations payments can be made, but France must agree to give up her apparently unrestricted right to punish Germany whenever she pleases.

"If the United States government had been able to convince France in the last foreign loan, such a plan is worth trying, the appeal to public opinion wouldn't have been necessary. But the French government's policy has been more or less moral, and it is not worth trying. First it seemed as if France would invade the Ruhr, then the policy was abandoned. Realizing the tremendous moral influence which the United States holds in the world today, the decision was made here to make public the conference's proposals."

Of the conference of bankers in Paris, the conference made a decision. Between now and then the impression made by the Harding-Hughes proposal for a revival of the international bankers' committee idea will be carefully watched. French opinion. After many months of clamoring for American help, the French will pause before they reject a concrete suggestion which is so carefully worded that it involves no publicity on the part of any of the governments to accept the recommendations.

Apollo Club to Present Important Musical Program

Two extraordinarily gifted pianists have made a dominating place in the musical world in the last two years. Coming from service overseas they were met with interested skepticism at first but after performance at the symphony concert in Chicago arrived at a place usually fought up to step by step. These two pianists, Guy Maier and Lee Pattison, will be the second attraction of the Apollo club offered this season appearing at the Congregational church, January 13. This is one of the most important musical events in the history of Janesville. The Apollo club has gone into this contract with faith in the people of Janesville that it will be given support. When a man of the celebrity of Karlton Hackett, as a musician, writes enthusiastically over Maier and Pattison, one really must believe that here indeed is a more than ordinary event in music. Hackett loves to use the scalpel on all artists who have less than the highest merit. He said a lot about Maier and Pattison in these paragraphs: "We have heard on rare occasions some beautiful playing on two pianos, but never anything with the finesse and perfect taste and touch which these two young men bring to it. The art demands special gifts of musical sympathy as well as virtuosity technique, and they have both

MRS. G. W. HALL
SICK FOR YEARS
Wants Women to Know How She Was Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
Lima, Ohio.—"Indeed, your medicine is all you say it is! I had very severe troubles such as women often have, and could do nothing for them. I was sick for several years, and from reading your ads. I finally decided to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now doing my own washing, which I haven't done for several years, and can walk long distances without those dragging pains and weak feelings. The Vegetable Compound is fine, and I never forget to say a good word for it to other women when they say they need something."—Mrs. G. W. HALL, 639 Hazel Avenue, Lima, Ohio.
There are many women who find their household duties almost unbearable, owing to some weakness or derangement. The trouble may be slight, yet cause such annoying symptoms as dragging pains, weakness and a run-down feeling.
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine for such conditions. It has in many cases relieved these symptoms and removed the cause of them. Mrs. Hall's experience is but one of many.

There was an abandon in their playing that was nothing in it seemed impossible that they could let themselves go with such apparent recklessness without some pulling and hawking, even the most obvious disaster, but they had themselves so mastered that there was never a blur.
"The most charming part of their playing was the delicate of the shading and elasticity with which they would toss the phrases back and forth without losing either the melodic line or the rhythmic accent. It was a pleasure to listen to them whether the phrases were in fortissimo chords or the faintest ornamental tracery, they had them all at their finger tips."

walked behind the counter, opened the drawer, took out the cash and containing the money and all. By the time Mrs. Reeder could reach the rear door to give warning, the youth had escaped. There was no attempt by the robber to use the revolver other than to make a threat.

It was all over in a moment. The youth paid no attention to the cash register, apparently knowing that the bulk of the cash was in the counter drawer.

It was a well planned robbery, the very boldness of which is astounding, for the robber is described as "just a kid."

Black Cats' Winning Streak Broken With Two Defeats

LOSE TO ROCKFORD TOM CATS, 27 TO 18, AND ELKHORN 31-27

After seven successive victories, the Janesville Black Cats suffered two defeats over the week-end. Sunday they were beaten, 27 to 18, by the Rockford Tom Cats and Monday lost to the Elkhorn American Legion, 31 to 27. In both games the Cats failed to display any of the class they have made them famous for, especially on Sunday when after playing a sensational game in the first half, they only scored one basket during the entire third and fourth periods.

Rockford's seeming inability to adjust themselves to the slippery rink floor gave the Black Cats an opportunity to force into the lead. The score at the end of the first quarter was 11 to 5 in favor of the locals. Ringers by Watson and Brown brought the Rockford five's tally up to 12 at the end of the first half. The Black Cats, however, were unable to score during the second half. Starting out the third period with a rush, the Tom Cats forced into the lead with Watson's ringer. Despite the fact that the Black Cats had innumerable opportunities to tie or drop through the net, Babcock was particularly unlucky in this respect repeatedly missing what seemed sure shots.

Substitutions Give Confidence.
The Elkhorn City five, on taking the lead, seemed to regain their confidence and opened up an offense that fairly dazzled the Black Cats. Using the short bounce pass they worked the ball down the floor repeatedly to be fed to Watson and Hartelius. The Cats, fighting desperately, were unable to stop the Elkhorn five.

Starts on Tom Cats.
The Rockford five was composed of athletes of note and included Watson, formerly with the Big Five, McClellan, and the Chicago Five. McClellan, University of Illinois guard, also appeared in the Rockford lineup with Brown, 228 pound forward. The full size crowd, however, watching the game, was disappointed in the performance of the Black Cats who were trailing at the end of the first half, 25 to 7. Despite a tremendous comeback in the second half, the Black Cats were unable to overcome the lead of their opponents. Disappointment was expressed by local players at the refereeing of the game.

Score of both games follows:
Janesville (18) vs. Rockford (27)
Janesville, 18; Rockford, 27.
Lamphear, 10; Watson, 10; Babcock, 10; Miller, 10; McKinty, 10; Hartelius, 10; O'Leary, 10; McClellan, 10; Kober, 10; Kakuska, 10.

Busy Man's Sport Page

By FRANK SINCLAIR

Oneonta, N. Y.—Five years ago this town was known far and wide as a dead end town, onto a sports page. But times change, and with them, persons. Right now, Oneonta, nicknamed "The Western Gateway to the Catskills," is strong for two sports: basketball and baseball. It is of the former that people speak more generally.

ONEONTA is a city of 10,000. Yet it supports daily baseball. It has done so for two years. Last year they had Al Bridwell, formerly of the New York Giants, as manager. In 1920 they had Ed Walsh, formerly of the White Sox, as pitcher. That shows the calibre.

THE TEAM was backed by the Boosters' Club of the Chamber of Commerce. It was organized two years ago primarily to advertise the city, as well as provide the fans with real games. According to "Doc" Marx, the president of the club, the outfit has done both. So far as advertising is concerned, much of the new life of the town is accredited to the appearance of the crew in the many towns around.

SO well did the club bring the name of the town before other communities that Oneonta has been growing steadily as a real center. Of course, the automobile has helped considerably, but merchants say that the baseball club kept the name of the town before the farmers and rural folks to such an extent that they were pulled that way when they wanted to do their buying.

ALTHOUGH the number of fans at week day games—Sunday ball not being played—never exceeded 1,000, the Chamber reports that a two years trial of the plan has proved successful enough to attempt it again. College lads are used, a good type of game played and excellent ball games are subso. A real business management put the club over.

A bright new year was brought in at the Apollo today by Harold Lloyd in "Dr. Jack," one of the most successful and most laugh provoking of the many comedies that are famous for all comedians has ever made. Entering a field that is familiar to all, the picture manages to be amusing and at times hilarious without being a travesty.
